FAQS

What is the difference between a proof and a finished portrait?

A proof is used for selection purposes only. It is provided to allow you to choose the poses and expressions you like best. It is not retouched.

All student proofs are owned by Pro Photo and are copyright protected.

All finished portraits will be retouched using digital retouching methods to correct and balance color, soften harsh lines and minimize blemishes. Every single portrait in your final package will include standard retouching at no additional charge.

If you want to remove scars, moles, tan lines, braces or severe acne, you may order Expanded Retouching, at an additional charge. See inside for details.

How many portraits do I need?

We suggest making a list of all your friends and relatives that you would like to share your portraits with and also decide how many you want for home, including family albums. With this list, you can select the perfect package.

May I copy my images?

No. All of your preview and original images are copyright protected and are the property of Pro Photo. Reproduction of these images is prohibited by Federal Copyright Law.
